BELGAUM.

Area.—The area of the district has been reduced from 4,656 to 4,612 square miles to accord with the measurement of the Survey carried out in 1880—1910-11.

Recent Surveys.—The Revision Survey of which the rates were introduced between 1880—1910-11, showed a decrease in the total cultivable area of 81,993 acres. By the revised settlement the total assessment on the Government occupied land was raised by Rs. 28,105 from Rs. 10,89,120 to Rs. 11,17,225, equal to an increase of more than 2 per cent.

The cultivated area by táluka shown in the revenue accounts for 1910-11 is :—

Important Public Works.—The West Deccan Section of the Southern Marátha Railway crossing the district from north to south was opened in the year 1887. The line passes through the Khánápur, Belgaum, Chikodi, Gokák and Athni Tálukás. At Londa, the West Deccan Section connects with the lines to Bangalore and Marmagáo. In 1910-11 there were 493 miles of metalled road and 47 miles of road suitable for fair weather traffic in the district. The new roads and works of importance constructed since 1875 are as follows :—

Factories.—There is a cotton mill in the district situated at Gokák falls with 1,854 operatives. The number of spindles in 1911 was 69,324 and the paid up capital Rs. 30,00,000. There are 16 cotton ginning factories, in 6 of which pressing work is done in addition, and one match factory of less importance. In each of these the operatives number less than 100.

Famine.—In 1891-92 there was slight scarcity in Belgaum which was easily tided over without recourse to elaborate measures of relief. Famine occurred in 1896-97, mainly due to failure of crops from the want of seasonable rain. The area affected was 1,642 square miles. Relief works were opened and continued for 14 months. The maximum number of persons receiving relief reached 20,083 in September. In 1899-1900 the rains again failed and the district suffered from scarcity. The area affected was 1,642 square miles, and the crop outturn only 50 per cent. of normal. Relief works were opened, the workers numbering 1,538, and were continued till October 1902 with two intermediate breaks. The maximum daily average number relieved was 4,677, the number in receipt of gratuitous relief being a little over 1,000. Special relief was also given to weavers in their own craft during the famine. The death-rate in the district was 42·31 per mille. The total number of deaths from all causes on relief works was 25, of which 10 were due to dysentery and diarrhœa and 12 to cholera. The percentage proportion of sexes and children among the relief workers in the district was 34 men, 44 women and 22 children. The average wage per worker unit was Re. 0-1-7. In 1900-01 the same area was again affected. The highest number in aid of relief on this occasion was 26,922 in August, 5,876 being gratuitously relieved. The death-rate per mille was 52·09. In 1901-02 scarcity again occurred, the area affected being 1,152 square miles. The maximum number on relief works was 6,358 and 3,628 were gratuitously relieved. The death-rate was 64·26 per mille. In 1904-05 there was slight scarcity in Belgaum which was easily tided over without recourse to famine measures, though gratuitous relief was given to some extent. In the following year, 1905-06, famine re-occurred owing to the premature cessation of the earlier and the almost complete failure of the late rains. The area affected was 1,862 square miles. The maximum number on relief works was 9,375 and 5,566 were gratuitously relieved. The death-rate was 28 per mille.

Plague.—The first case occurred on the 21st of October 1897 in Kagwad village, the source of infection being probably an imported case from Sátára. The city of Belgaum was soon attacked and the epidemic spread to Khánápur in January 1898, and soon after to the rest of the district. The deaths in the district up to the end of 1910-11 numbered over 1,83,000 or 11 per cent. of the total population. The district suffered severely between 1901 and 1905 :—
